Residents Support Camp Grayling in Survey

But Training Increase Would Concern Residents

An exit poll of 1643 Crawford County voters showed 59.7% support Camp Grayling even if it causes some problems for the county. On the same survey question, 21.3% indicated they didn't support Camp Grayling and 19% were neutral or had no response.

The survey was conducted Nov. 8th by Grayling High School government students for the Camp Grayling Management Advisory Committee. Out of 4,270 voters at the polls throughout the county that day, 38.4% voluntarily filled out the one-page question sheet.

Most residents, 74.6%, agreed Camp Grayling was important for the economy of Crawford County. Only 13.8% felt it was not important to the economy.

Only 14.9% felt Crawford County would be better off without Camp Grayling. A large number, 64%, felt Crawford County would not be better off without the Camp.

However, 37.8% felt the county would be worse off if training activities at Camp Grayling increased by 25% in the next five years. Thirty percent felt the county would be about the same and 32.2% felt the county would be better off.

Military traffic on public roads drew a higher response as a big problem (27.3%) than artillery noise (25.2%).

More than 40% of voters responding thought Camp Grayling had a positive impact on the tourist economy. More than 40% thought the Camp had a negative impact on wildlife, plants, and soils. Close to 39% felt the Camp had a negative effect on property values.

The entire question sheet with totals is shown here. The results were released Tuesday, Dec. 6, by the advisory committee. The committee is evaluating the survey and will include the information in its report to Governor Blanchard.

Governor's Camp Grayling Management Advisory Committee Opinion Survey

Grayling Twp. Buys Building for $200,000

By Irene Pettyjohn

The Grayling Township Board voted unanimously to purchase the former North Michigan Land and Oil building for their new Township Hall.

The Board met in a special session on Monday, November 28, and agreed to purchase the office complex for $200,000. They also decided to pay cash for the building instead of borrowing the $100,000 approved by voters at the November 8th General Election.

The board felt the cash transaction will save the township thousands of dollars in interest expense. At the least, if the township qualified for a tax exempt load at 7 1/2% interest, it would mean approximately $69,000 in additional expense. If the township did not qualify for the tax exempt status, these interest expenses could have easily climbed to nearly $95,000 over the life of a 15 year loan.

Monies to complete the purchase will come from the Township Improvement Fund. According to Arnold Stancil, township supervisor, this fund represents years of responsible spending by Grayling Township administrators. At the end of each fiscal year any budget surpluses were transferred into the Township Improvement Fund, and over the years enough money was saved to pay for the Township Hall.

"I think the community can be proud of the fact that their township, through prudent fiscal policies over the years, has been able to accomplish this with no borrowing, no bond issues, no millage increase, and no interest," said Stancil.

Stancil explained that the purchase or construction of a Township Hall for Grayling Township has been under consideration for many years. Prior to his election in 1984, voters were asked to approve the purchase of a newly constructed building and the proposal was defeated.

The Keyport Clinic and the former North Central Mental Health building were two other locations considered by the township board. The Keyport Clinic was rejected primarily because of the extensive remodeling that would be necessary to convert the small examining rooms into township offices and board rooms. The board was also concerned that there was no room for future expansion and that the facility did not provide for adequate parking.

The North Central Mental Health building is a two story building. This situation posed a problem for handicapped residents. Future expansion and parking was also a concern with this location.

"I think that the particular building that the board has chosen will be a long term asset to the township and community, and will be a building that all residents of Grayling Township will be able to point out with pride to newcomers or visitors to our community as Grayling continues to grow," Stancil stated.

Grayling Township Board members present at the Monday meeting were Michael McNamara and John Medler, trustees; Ruth O'Mara, treasurer; Monica S. Ashton, clerk; and Arnold Stancil, supervisor.

Grayling Township has been leasing its office space at the old Bear Archery complex at a cost of $11,250 per year plus other maintenance expenses, such as snow removal, janitorial costs, and light replacement.

A closing date on the purchase has not been set; however, Stancil anticipates that it will be completed soon with the move to the new Township Hall taking place sometime during the month of December.

"After we are settled in the building an open house will be planned so that the public can tour the facilities," Stancil concluded.

The new Grayling Township Hall will be located on M-72 West, next to the St. Francis Episcopal Church.

180,000-Pound Cargo Moved By Air Force

The Michigan Army National Guard flew a 180,000-pound load of heavy equipment from Camp Grayling to a Guard unit in Manistique, Michigan. According to MAJ Keith Bobenmoyer, Shop Foreman at the Mobilization and Training Equipment Site (MATES), the air lift, a rarely-used method of transporting vehicles of this size and weight, was completed on November 23.

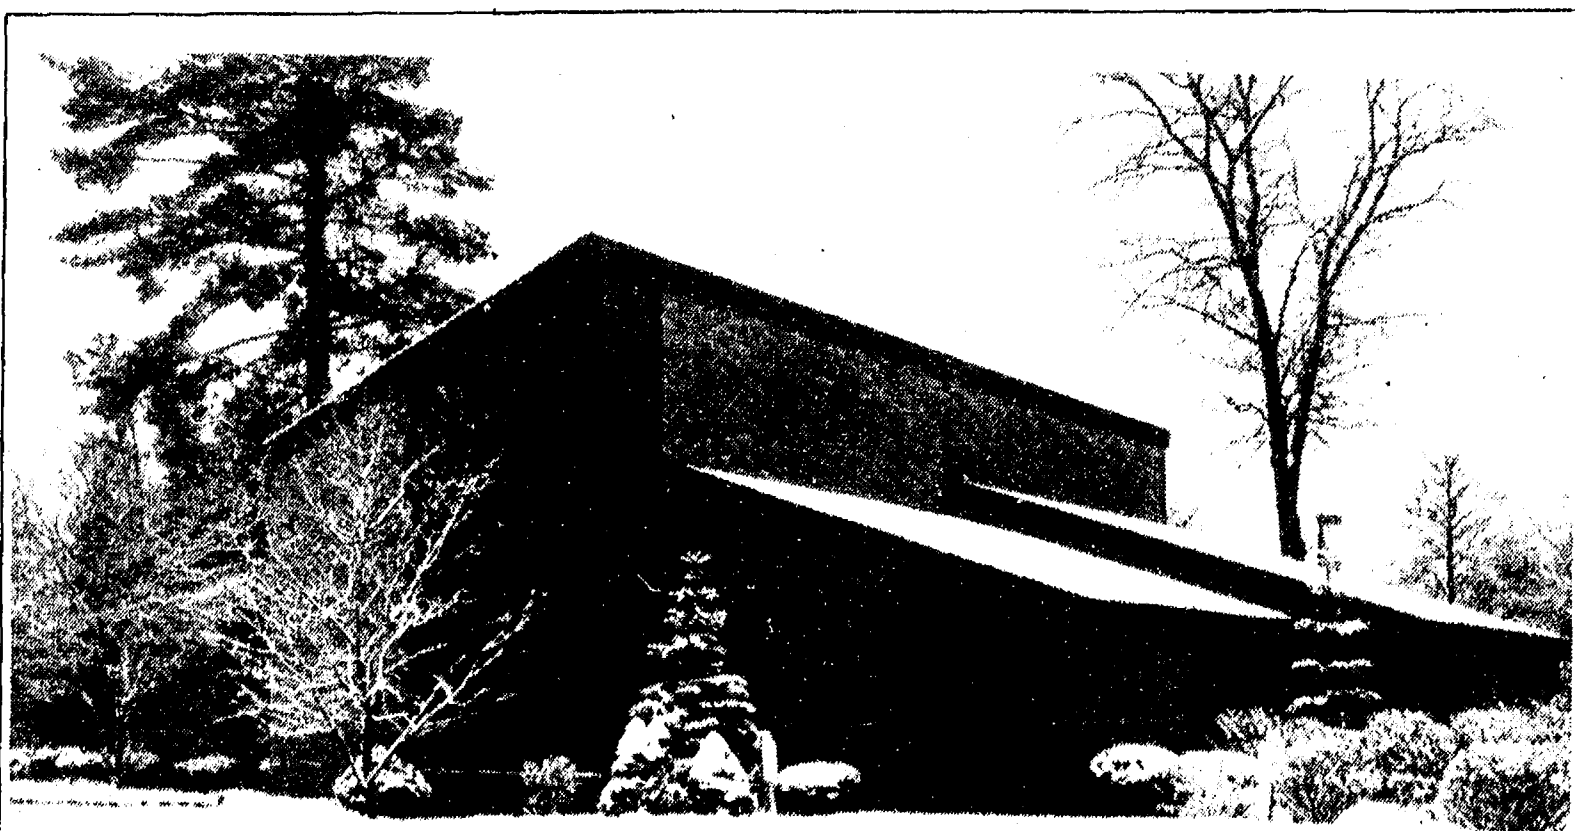

The equipment, which belongs to the 1075th Maintenance Company, has been stationed at Camp Grayling. Because it is needed at Manistique, Guard leaders explored ways of moving it to Michigan's Upper Peninsula. Transporting the M88 Medium Tank Recovery Vehicle across the Mackinac Bridge is prohibited because of its weight, and permits could not be obtained to drive it north through Wisconsin. Barge travel across Lake Michigan was considered impractical.

The solution came to transport the vehicle by airplane when Bobenmoyer discovered that the U.S. Air Force Reserve has available C-5A Galaxies, four-engine jet aircraft, which are large enough to carry this load. The airplane also carried a tractor and lowboy trailer, and a 2 1/2 ton truck. With these loaded, the plane still could hold seventy-two passengers, with the total load weighing over 180,000 lbs.

MATES personnel drove the equipment to Wurtsmith Air Force Base, Oscoda, where it was loaded onto the airplane. After a quick flight to K.I. Sawyer AFB at Marquette, the equipment was

Writer Believes Some Officials Overstep Duties

Dear Editor:

Now that the elections are over let me make the following known. I trust that now that Bill Coy is in a more powerful position than his former Maple Forest township supervisor position, he will be more cognizant of his duties, and those duties do not include trespassing on private, posted, fenced property and doing this at any time of the day or night because he has the power to do this. I recall he even informed my late husband and I at a township meeting in October, 1987 that he could look through windows in order for him to assess peoples property values.

I am writing to make people aware of some of our elected officials' misguided sense of their authority. There is too much going on in our nation, of officials trying to take away our freedoms, a little at a time. So I hope this letter will serve as notice to readers of the Avalanche to be on their toes. By the way, don't go running around in your home in your "Birthright Suit," your property may be assessed!

Lovells Resident Voices Concern About Newly Elected Official

This is an "Open Letter" to the electorate of Lovells Township and it is for their information and action concerning their Board of the Township.

The elections are over and the new board is in place in our Town Hall. It would seem that all should be well but in my view, it isn't. Therefore I am going to point out some things that voters need to remember and may even have to act on.

In November of 1984, Fred Schaibly refused to run for another term as Supervisor. He encouraged Lyle Jewell to run for office. Jewell was elected and took office in November of 1984. Schaibly retired to his domicile on Shannon Road. Along about March or April of 1985, I believe Schaibly was agitating a recall from office of the entire board.

I believe he provided space for pre recall meetings at his restaurant at the Country Kitchen and colluded with Tom Miller, George Wingeier, Bill Putgini and numerous others. They started the recall before the board had been in office for six months. Schaibly should have known better. They eventually tried to recall the board and it failed. That recall cost the township and the taxpayers in excess of five thousand dollars.

Schaibly discovered that when he left office, he lost the easiest six grand a year that he had ever received and it is my contention that he tried to recall with the hope of regaining a job he didn't want just for the money. He now denies that he pushed or had anything to do with that failed and expensive recall.

Voters of Lovells Township, you now have this same Fred Schaibly back in office. He didn't do anything before and it is my belief that he will do even less over the next four years. This supervisor has the ability to cost the township money that need not be.

Remember that back in 1979 he went to Florida. As one trustee and the treasurer were also gone for the winter, this left the township board without a quorum and the Board of Review was due to meet.

Also voters take note that I believe Schaibly will attempt to have the Township Board approve Social Security withholding for his benefit. If he should succeed in having Social Security withheld, he will have succeeded in causing the township to expend even more of its funds because of his actions. The township will have to match withholdings for all employees and that means more of our tax dollars shot.

Lovells Township voters must keep their good eye on this Supervisor and his board. If they do not attend meetings they are going to regret it.

Babbitt message unpopular

AS THEY PROPERLY should, Democratic state chairmen from around the nation gathered recently to ponder their party's past and its future, and to look at what really happened Nov. 8.

One of the speakers was former Arizona Gov. Bruce Babbitt, who had a brief but engaging run at the Democratic presidential nomination this time around.

Mr. Babbitt has made a political career of telling the truth as he sees it, and sometimes it strikes raw nerves.

Such was the case at the Phoenix conclave of Democratic state leaders.

The accepted Democratic interpretation of George Bush's whopping victory over Michael Dukakis seems to be that their candidate and his campaign is why the Democrats didn't win the White House.

On the whole, this line of reasoning maintains, the Democratic party is in solid shape, because it gained seats in the United States Senate, did all right in the lower house of Congress, and picked up strength on the state and local levels.

So it all boils down to Mr. Dukakis and his flawed campaign.

NOT SO, CONTENTS former Gov. Babbitt. The real reason, according to one press report of Mr. Babbitt's remarks, is that the American voter does not trust the Democrats to handle the nation's economic, military and international affairs.

"We are offering one product, while the American people are shopping for something else," Mr. Babbitt told the state chairmen.

"The same voter who elects a congressman to build a highway out of town knows he is voting for a president who must map out the road to Mars.

"And the voter who elects a senator to cut the defense will also be looking for a president ready to match the Soviets missile for missile."

Obviously, many Democratic leaders don't agree with former Gov. Babbitt. Paul Kirk, Jr., the party's national chairman, was one.

"No one can conclude from this campaign that the Republican Party had a larger vision and greater view of global politics, foreign affairs, fiscal responsibility and relating to working people's lives," Mr. Kirk contended.

The Texas state Democratic chairman, Bob Slagle, voiced the prevalent view which Gov. Babbitt had directly challenged.

"I don't think the Democratic Party's in trouble," said Mr. Slagle. "I think we're stronger. We're better organized. We know more about what we're doing than ever before."

"And in the end, the stars in their course will chart a Democratic victory and a return to decency in public policy."

WHEREIN LIES the truth?

The American voter is indeed a wondrous creature. He/she seems to delight in placing public responsibility in the hands of both parties at the same time, and thus vesting full control in the hands of neither party; witness the split between executive and legislative control so frequent in Washington, and so prevalent here in Michigan for the past 30 years or more.

Perhaps the voter seems safer by splitting control of the government. Perhaps it is the voter's way of enforcing the check-and-balance system of our form of government.

Perhaps, as Gov. Babbitt suggests, the voter is looking for different qualities and differing values between executive and legislative candidates.

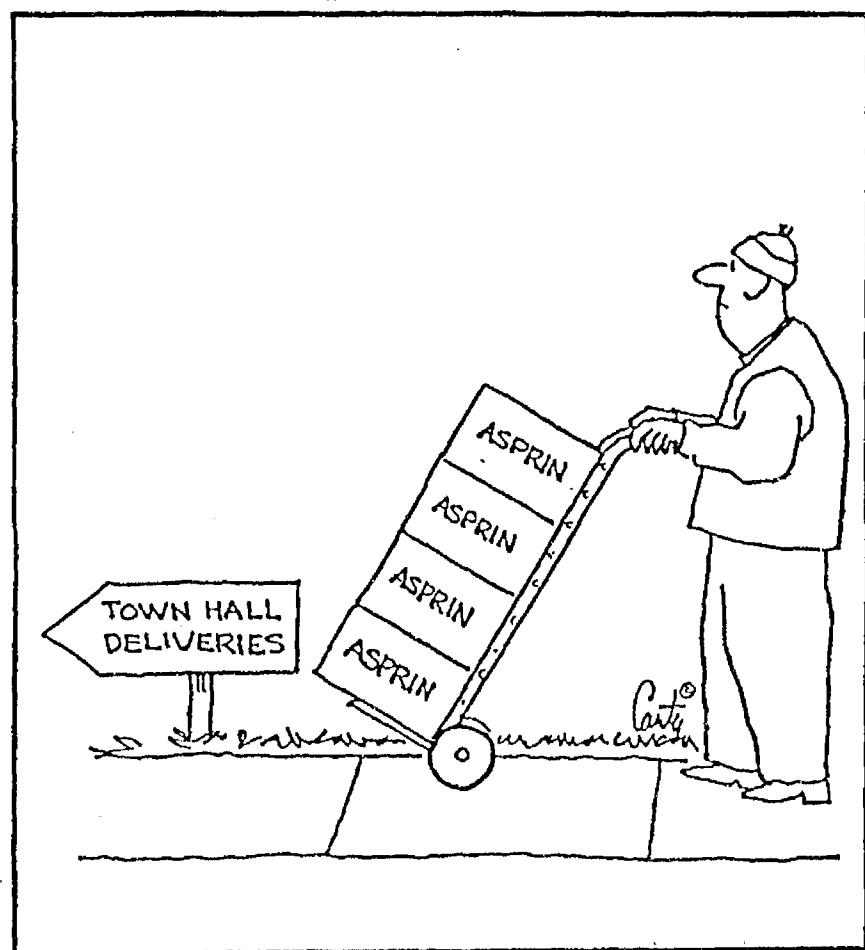

Or perhaps, as Mr. Slagle contends, somehow political decisions are written mystically in the stars.

Maybe the national Democratic party should cover several options. It might make sense to re-evaluate the presidential product it is offering the voters, as Mr. Babbitt suggests, while it is waiting for the stars to run their course.

Dear Mr. Bush:

We of the AuSable Ministerial Association of Grayling, Michigan are extremely concerned over the way in which our Secretary of State, Mr. George Schultz has mis-handled the Yassar Arafat situation. It does not redound to the credit of our American way of freedom of speech to deny someone this right. In making such a denial, we are simply telling the rest of the world that this freedom is not for all. This position is completely contrary to our Democratic way of life.

We, as a Ministerial Asso-

Have you ever thought of the perfect reply, a clever comeback, or a brilliant remark after it's too late to use it? Some one makes fun of you in front of a dozen persons and you can only mumble something stupid. Minutes later, as you're leaving, you think of a great reply and all you can do is hit yourself on the forehead and exclaim "Why didn't I say that before!"

The French know what I'm talking about. They even have a word for it — esprit de l'escalier — a clever remark that comes to mind when it is too late to utter it.

I picked up that word from a humorous little book called "They Have a Word For It," by Howard Rheingold.

Here are some other words from the book that I bet a few folks in Grayling could use in their conversations.

EPATER LES BOURGEOIS — (French) to deliberately shock people who have conventional values. Although teenagers like to do this the most — with shaved heads, dyed hair, or raucous music — some older people also like to create a stir with surprising behavior.

FARPOTSHKET (Yiddish) something that is all fouled up especially as the result of an attempt to fix it. The military have two similar terms, SNAFU and FUBAR. SNAFU is an acronym for Situation Normal — All Fouled Up and FUBAR is an acronym for Fouled Up Beyond All Recovery (sometimes a word stronger than fouled up is used.) The book gave a good example of Farpotshket by pointing out Watergate was a third rate burglary until the White House attempted to fix it by covering it up.

ATTACABOTTONI — (Italian) a doleful bore who buttonholes people and tells sad, pointless tales. This word could come in handy to warn a friend an attacabottoni is about to strike.

TIRARE LA CARRETTA (Italian) to slog through the everyday dirty work. It's the end of the month and you have a day's worth of forms to fill out. Or if your children ask why they have to practice their multiplication tables again, tell them we all have to tirare la carretta from time to time, says Howard Rheingold.

RADFAHRER (German) one who flatters superiors and browbeats subordinates. This sounds so much better than calling someone a brown-noser.

BRICOLEUR (French) a person who constructs things by random tinkering around without following an explicit plan. Some people create or build following a detailed plan step by step. Some of us fly by the seat of our pants.

MBUKI MVUKI (Bantu) to shuck off clothes in order to dance. I don't think Mbuki Mvuki (sounds like Boogie Woogie) applies to many people in Grayling but I thought I'd throw it in here to wake up any reader who made it this far.

DRACHENFUTTER (German) peace offerings for wives from guilty husbands. Exact quotes from the book will explain this one best:

"The German custom of bringing home sweets or flowers for one's wife when one has stayed out late while 'playing poker with the boys' or engaging in other disapproved behavior is probably older and more widespread than anyone realizes...."

"In Germany, the practice of bringing home chocolates or other gifts was so widespread that it gave rise to the colloquial term Drachenfutter, which literally means 'dragon fodder.' At one point it was common in Germany to see men drinking in bars or cafes on Saturday afternoon with their Drachenfutter already bought and wrapped in anticipation of the night ahead!"

"Of course, it is becoming more and more common for women who have their own careers to spend a night out with the girls, and the female version of Drachenfutter might become more common. The word can be extended to all gifts or acts that are given or performed out of guilt for having too much fun...."

Notes from the Woods

By Nancy Lemmen
Avalanche Columnist

The electrical power went out in our house on a windy Wednesday in November. I should have known it would happen. All day at work, I had listened as the wind blew wildly through the leafless trees. And we live in a neighborhood with jack pines which can fall over if you just give them a good push.

When we bought our home, we were told that the electricity went out periodically in the area. But in the nearly twelve years we have lived here, we have lost the power only a few times, with most of those only momentary losses.

So when I returned home from work and the hallway light didn't come on immediately, my first thought was a burnt out bulb. When the kitchen light didn't respond either, my second thought was (and this is not at all to my credit), "What have Mom and Dad done?" My parents had left that morning after a short visit. Maybe I reasoned briefly that they had turned off all the circuits as a cute way of saying goodbye.

When a living room lamp also failed to go on, my mind finally engaged: "Rats, the power has gone off!" I lit a candle to illuminate the telephone directory and the phone, and called the power company. Yes, the power was out in our area, confirmed the emergency operator, and yes, the men were out working on it. "Ok, no problem." I hung up.

I will mention at this point that meanwhile Dave was spending the week at a conference held at a post resort near Atlanta, Georgia. He had called on Tuesday night to say, among other things, that he had run the jogging trail in his t-shirt, the weather there being unseasonably warm. I had tried to be happy for him, as I stayed home in the cold, but it was pushing things even before the electricity went out. Afterward ... well, never mind.

I will also mention that I firmly believe in the power (no pun) of positive thinking when dealing with the electrical company. I am convinced that if I send silent cheers and warm vibrations to the crew fixing whatever went wrong, they will get their job done swiftly and surely. I was certain that this power outage would be very temporary.

With confidence, I returned to town for an evening class. Surely it would be on when I returned home. However, so as not to tempt fate, I ate at a restaurant and took care of basic grooming needs before driving home.

Before leaving, I had turned on the porch light, so it would signal me immediately that the power company people had enjoyed success. But I saw no welcoming beacon of light. I left the car headlights on to get into the house.

No problem. I had eaten, I had one flush left in the toilet, I could sleep in front of the fireplace on the living room couch, and by the next morning the power would be on. I still was confident.

First I got the dogs out of the kennel to spend the night with me. Then I went into the dark to bring in fire wood. I stumbled around a lot, but I felt like a pioneer woman, alone on the prairie, taking care of the homestead's basic needs while the husband was off hunting buffalo or whatever they did.

I got the fire going strong, then brought in enough wood to keep it stoked all night. And, because there was nothing left to do with no light to do it by, I went to bed. I was certain that I would awake to the light of the lamp I turned on.

I should pick up the house for Dave's return the next day. All my plans were dashed because I had no power.

Oh, how we depend upon our modern conveniences. Without electricity, I could do nothing at home beyond use the telephone. I had no lights, no water, no furnace, no stove, no refrigerator, no freezer, no toilet, no shower, no computer, no television, no radio. Life comes to a near halt when electrical power goes out.

Mid-evening and I had lost my sense of humor. The pioneer spirit had left hours before. I was becoming melancholy, sitting in the near darkness. I snapped at the dogs when they whined for attention. I worried about my unfulfilled obligations. Peevishly, I stoked the fire, pulled the comforter over my head, and went to sleep.

At 9:30 p.m. — TA, DA — the light over the couch snapped on. I heard the furnace click in. I ran to the refrigerator and freezer to be certain my food had not thawed. I checked the faucets to be sure the water ran. I danced and sang. The dogs wondered at my change of mood. They hadn't understood my distress. They live in a kennel without power and get by just fine. No electricity in the house bothered them not at all.

I learned something from that 33-hour episode. One, my life is pretty darn good but I ignore it when things are going well. The power could have gone out the week before, when I was writing a major paper for a college class. It could have gone out a week later when I was preparing for Thanksgiving. As it was, I had not lost much beyond a few hours.

My neighbors had it worse. Some lost the food in their freezers. Some with children had to rent motel rooms. I lost nothing. I had been minimally inconvenienced.

Also, I had many friends who offered me the use of their beds, their showers, their water, their oil lamps. I also had a wood stove that kept the pipes from freezing and heated my soup water.

I'm like the guy in the commercial who gets his face slapped and responds, "Thanks, I needed that." I go along, not appreciating how good my life is until I get a little slap to remind me. This time it was the electricity going off. Thanks. I needed that.

... about your Social Security

SEVERAL CHANGES FOR 1989

As the end of the year approaches, it's a good time to mention some of the changes that workers and beneficiaries will see in 1989.

Social Security and Supplemental Security Income (SSI) beneficiaries will receive a four percent cost-of-living increase on their checks. The January 3 Social Security check, and the December 30 SSI check will reflect the increase.

The Medicare Part B (medical insurance) premium that is withheld from Social Security checks for Medicare eligible beneficiaries, will increase from $24.80 to $31.90 per month beginning January 1989. A special provision in the law ensures that if the Medicare premium increase is greater than the cost-of-living raise, the person's check will not be lowered. Social Security checks are paid in even dollar amounts - benefits are rounded down to the nearest dollar amount.

Working individuals will find that although the tax rate remains the same as 1988, at 7.51 percent for the worker, the maximum amount of earnings subject to FICA tax increases from $45,000 to $48,000.

People who work while receiving Social Security benefits must limit their earnings in order to receive all of their benefits. The earnings limits increase for 1989 from $8,400 to $8,880 for persons age 65 to 69, and from $6,120 to $6,480 for persons under 65 throughout the year. There is no earnings limit for people age 70 and up. Also, disabled persons are not subject to these rules; they must report all work and earnings.

For more information on any of these changes, you can call Social Security's new toll-free phone number-800-2345-SSA.

The Traverse City office is located at 1111 E. Front St., and hours are 9:00-4:30, Monday through Friday. The telephone number is (616) 946-8360.

A representative is at the County Building in Grayling on the first and third Tuesday of each month, from 10:30 until 2:00. No phone service is available at this location. Callers should use the toll-free number.

Home burglary is not like car theft: the burglar wants to get in quickly before he's noticed. If you can slow him down, he'll most likely move on to a different "victim."

First step to keeping burglars out is locks - good, deadbolt locks with a one-inch throw, preferably a double-cylinder type that can't be opened or closed without a key. (If a thief gets in through a window, say, he can't get out the door.)

Make sure those good locks are on strong doors that can't be broken into easily. Sliding glass doors can be held shut with a strong stick inserted in the lower inside track. Put in a key-type lock, too.

Safeguard windows. Drill holes in front frame and part way through the rear one where they meet, and insert pins or nails to hold in place; remove to open window. Some locks lock with window open, too.

Lock garage door so a burglar can't get in and, unseen by passersby, take his time opening the door from the garage to your house.

Carol LaChance, employee of the State Library in Michigan and wife of a late National Guard officer, sends greetings to all of her friends in Grayling and Guard people with whom she and her husband were associated.

Pearl Tucker spent Thanksgiving with her son and family, Lee and Beth Tucker in Lansing. Previously she had spent a week with her daughter Carolyn Brown, husband Bill and son Jacob, in Morganton, North Carolina, where the Browns now reside.

The Grayling Kiwanis Club had a "ladies night" on Monday, November 28, at the Chief Shoppenagon's when the members and their wives met for a dinner meeting. A film entitled "Martin, the Cobbler" was shown.

There was a good crowd of Grayling people who attended the Weyerhaeuser Performing Arts program at Kirtland Community College on Saturday evening, December 3. The Chenille Sisters of Ann Arbor put on an excellent performance.

The lights in Grayling are beginning to shine for the Christmas season. There is a huge Christmas tree on the South Side lighted all the way to the top, the Crawford County Library has a very pretty display as do many businesses along the loop. Out M-72 East there are several homes with plenty of lights and decorations. The Grayling Promotional Association urges you to join in the celebration.

Arnie and Cathy Stancil, Ramona and Steven were in Cass City over Thanksgiving visiting Rev. Joe Robertson and wife, Mary Ellen and family.

Word has been received from Florida that former Grayling resident, UHarley "Tiny" Russell, who once owned Tiny's Beauty Shop and later worked for the County Road Commission is in a nursing home in Zephyrhills, Florida. He has had a heart by-pass and amputation of his second leg. The first amputation was two years ago. His address is UHarley Russell, Heartland of Zephyrhills, 800 Henry Drive, Florida, 34248.

I'd like to thank my Florida correspondence for news.

Word from Marilyn Longworth is that she is really enjoying the cards and letters sent to her. She says she has a very fond spot for Grayling and all of the good times she had here.

Mr. and Mrs. Morden Post spent Thanksgiving week with Mr. and Mrs. Jeffrey Sola (nee Debra Post) and sons Antonio and Nicholas of Ocean Grove, New Jersey. Last weekend the Posts attended the yearly Post Christmas party held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Post of Hart. Those attending were from Trufant, Bay City, Flushing, Grayling, and Kimberly, Wisconsin. Next year's hosts are Mr. and Mrs. Morden Post.

Doug and Jo, Brian and Teresa Legg were here from Norway, Michigan, to spend Thanksgiving weekend visiting their families and friends. While here they stayed with their parents Don and Pat Legg and Bill and Fay Gallagher. Also here for Thanksgiving dinner were Louis and Mary Legg, Linda and Jim Teeple, Pam and Dick Baker, Don, Scott and Paul and guest Tammy Fenton.

Robert and Clara Sorenson spent Thanksgiving with their daughter, Judy Sorenson, in Saginaw. They were joined by their son, John, who came from Benton Harbor.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Richter for the long Thanksgiving weekend were their granddaughter, Vicki Huffman, her son, Brian, and their grandson, Mark Trillow, of Barberton, Ohio.

Accurate Prediction

Dr. John Wasmuth, associate professor of biological chemistry at the University of California, Irvine College of Medicine, has identified a segment of DNA that allows an accurate prediction of Huntington's disease. Wasmuth and his co-researchers reported their finding recently in the British journal Nature.

"By isolating the Huntington's gene and finding out what it does, we have a chance of counteracting its effect and may be able to delay symptoms or cure the disease entirely," said Wasmuth.

BIG SPREAD—Fred Perrin, of Grayling, shot this 8-point buck on October 14. It had an 18½-inch spread.

10-POINT—Steve Nelson shot this 10-point buck near the Kalkaska County line on Nov. 18. The buck weighed 165 pounds.

Vikings Win Basketball Season Opener 53-44

The Grayling Vikings won the opening game of the season Friday night, December 2, defeating Kalkaska 53-44.

Coach Tom Mills was satisfied with the victory; however, he described his young team as sporadic, full of inconsistencies. He said that in the first quarter the team played very aggressive defense, frustrating the Kalkaska team, but appeared tired and flat footed throughout the second quarter, giving their opponent 16 for 9 points. At halftime Grayling led Kalkaska by only a one point margin, 27-26.

In the third quarter Grayling again played good defense for nearly six minutes, inspiring the offensive team, which had some good steals and outscored Kalkaska 16 to 8.

"During the second half we did a nice job on the offensive boards," Mills said. "In the first half we had only two offensive rebounds, but in the second half we came back and had nine offensive rebounds."

High scorer for the game was Bud Ostrowski with 18 points, 4 assists, and 6 steals. Other points were scored by: Jim Abney 10 (9 rebounds, 1 steal, and 3 blocked shots), Craig Hudson 6 (2 assists, 1 rebound, 2 steals and 1 blocked shot), Brian Palmer 6, Jeremie Mead 4 (3 assists), Kirk Annis, Chris Skidmore, Marty Jung, and Ted Baynham each had 2 points, and Tony Doremire and Matt Spencer each had 1 point.

Grayling had 20 steals and 7 blocked shots.

Mills credited Marty Jung and Jeremie Mead for playing good defensive games.

He also praised Bud Ostrowski and Jim Abney for their performances.

After the game Mills cautioned his team about their 6 for 20 performance at the free-throw line. He told them that in close games they would not win many ball games with that type of shooting.

"We were 2 for 13 in the fourth quarter," said Mills, "and I was extremely displeased with that."

Grayling played Houghton Lake at home on Tuesday, and will be hosting the favored Cheboygan team on Friday, December 9th.

Mills said that in order for Grayling to beat Cheboygan, Grayling will have to minimize their turnovers. In the Kalkaska game Grayling suffered 23 turnovers, and Mills said that the team was never really pressed.

"If Grayling gives Cheboygan the ball as they did to Kalkaska, Cheboygan is going to take advantage of it and for every 20 times we turn it over, Cheboygan is going to score at least 12 points."

9 Returning Lettermen To Lead GHS Matmen

The GHS matmen will open their 1988-89 season at Petoskey on Thursday, December 8th. Grayling will be competing against wrestlers from Traverse City and Petoskey.

Coach Don Ferguson will be leading the team for his 13th consecutive season.

The team will feature nine returning letter winners from last year. Seniors are: Brian Kernstock, 189; John Gay, 160; Kevin Bickford, heavyweight 275; Jason Wright, 140; and Rusty Argue, 171. Terry Sorenson, 119, is the only returning junior. Sophomores include Doug Doty, 125; Andy Moore, 112; and Frank Wildfong, 113.

New members to the team include: Glen Willoughby, Jim Devriendt, Tyrone Stallard, James Montoya, Jeremie Harwood, Kevin Hinderleider, Kevin Austin, Joey LaForest, Todd Thorsen, Chad Broeker, Dan Townsend, and Jason Basham.

Ferguson said that his team this year consists of two ability spectrums.

"We have a team that is young and a team that is exceptionally good, with a lot of experience," Ferguson stated. "In the beginning, our experienced wrestlers will have to carry the team while the younger athletes gain the skills, physical conditioning, and experience necessary to produce a good wrestler."

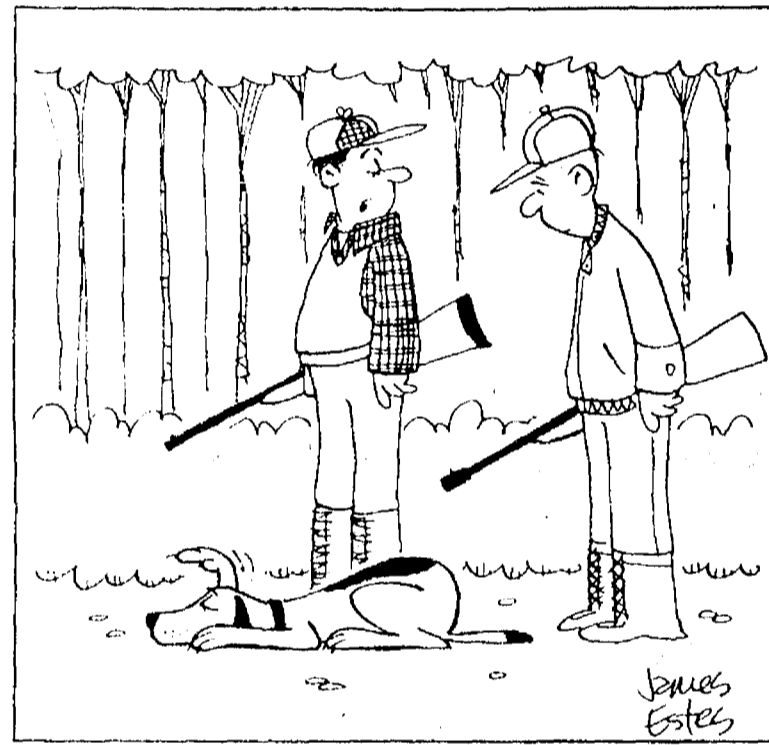

Ferguson explained that as the season progresses the younger wrestlers will blend into the team, and the team should peak by the time the season reaches the state finals.

Steve Fraser, a 1984 gold medalist in Greco-Roman wrestling, spoke to the Grayling team on Wednesday, November 30th. He told the team that the three most important elements necessary to becoming a good wrestler are: strong heart muscles, strategy, and technique.

Fraser said that he spent 16,000 hours practicing and working on his physical conditioning prior to the Los Angeles Olympic games. He also said that the two greatest thrills of his life were when he walked onto the floor during the Olympics and heard the crowd chanting, "USA, USA!", and when he stood on the podium and heard the playing of America's National Anthem.

Fraser is an assistant wrestling coach at Eastern Michigan University, and is coaching Mark Lowe of Grayling.

"He's been hunting so many times that he's gotten kinda laid-back with his pointing."

J.V.'s Shooting Falls Short in Loss

The Grayling J.V. team's shooting let them down in a 49-42 opening loss to Kalkaska Friday, Dec. 2.

The Vikings shot 18 of 66 from the field.

"They were all good shots," said J.V. coach Warren "Butch" Hayes. "We just didn't shoot well."

Hayes said the team played real good man-to-man full-court defense. The team had 19 steals led by Shane Fraser with 4 and Tim Hough with 3. Fraser also led the team with 10 points.

Carl Mead scored 8, Matt Branch 8, and Jamie Petrie had 6. Branch led with 6 rebounds and Dana Mirate had 5. Fraser also had 5 assists.

Good News . . .

The bad press that the Detroit Board of Education is getting endangers the reputations of all boards of education. Let us state that hopefully, the Detroit board is an exception, not a rule. Let us also set the record straight for the Crawford AuSable Board of Education...and it is 'Good News'.

The board members receive an ANNUAL salary of $150.00. A vehicle is not provided for each member, there is no per diem for the many meetings attended and rarely is there reimbursement for mileage. The $150.00 ANNUAL salary is mandated by law. Unless a board votes to pay a fee per meeting, they must receive the annual salary. There is an additional compensation for the secretary and treasurer not exceeding a total of $350.00 per year, including the base salary. The board would really prefer that there be no compensation.

Involvement in the school district and the community averages two or more meetings per month. At the school level, board members serve on the policy, curriculum and finance committees. Special ad hoc meetings often call for representation by the board. Activities of interest such as PTA are often attended by a board member. Board of Education members contribute to the partnership of schools and community by serving on the County Tax Allocation board, the County Special Elections board and the Grayling Recreational Authority board. Appointments to special committees of the C.O.O.R. Intermediate district are a responsibility of the board. There is also special committee appointments that insure good communications with the community.

Board members are involved extensively in their church families, little league, junior pro, business organizations, professional organizations, service groups, government agencies and many other activities in the community.

Serving on the Board of Education is not for monetary reasons. The commitment to quality education for the children, OUR FUTURE, and the concerns for the quality of life in the community is the driving force behind the members of the Board of Education.

Dealing With Stains From School

By Gail Edwards, Extension Home Economist Cooperative Ext. Service

Children's school clothes sometimes seem to act like magnets for stains. You needn't despair, however. With quick action and some know-how, you can remove most of the stains.

Crayons

Grayon marks are easy to remove if you do it right away. A spot treatment with a dry cleaning solvent (available in hardware stores or in the laundry section of most supermarkets) will take care of the crayon wax. Next, wash the garment in warm water with a heavy-duty liquid detergent.

If the stain is still there, it's probably because the color dye was strong. You may need to use an all-fabric bleach.

Don't iron a crayon stain. It is not true that ironing is a good way to remove wax. Ironing will only set the color and make the crayon stain worse.

Felt-tip Pens

Felt-tip pens contain either washable or nonwashable inks. If you're not certain what kind of pen caused the stain, treat it as a washable ink stain. First, spot treat with a heavy-duty liquid detergent. If the ink is water soluble, the stain will probably come out. If it faded but did not come out entirely, try using an all-fabric bleach next. If the ink was the nonwashable type, nothing will budget the stain.

Pencil

If you want to get a pencil mark off a garment, first carefully erase as much of it as possible. An art gum eraser usually works better than the kind of eraser found on a pencil. Don't try to erase on a fragile fabric-you could rub right through it. Next, wash as usual with a heavy-duty detergent.

Tempera Paint

Tempera paint is water soluble, so washing immediately with a regular laundry detergent will get it out.

One danger is that the paint will be deposited on other parts of the fabric or on other clothes in the washing machine. Treating the stained spot avoids this problem. If tempera paint stains dry, they can be difficult to remove and may require bleaching.

Fruit Drinks

Fruit punch drinks often contain vegetable dyes that can be difficult to remove. Rinse in water first, then spot treat with a detergent. This probably won't remove all the stain, so use a bleaching treatment next. Soak the garment for a half hour in a solution of 1 tablespoon bleach to 1 gallon of water. Then wash as usual.

TO THE CUSTOMERS OF MICHIGAN CONSOLIDATED GAS COMPANY

CASE NOS. U-5451-R (1988) AND U-6743-R (1988)

NOTICE OF HEARING TO REVISE CONSERVATION SURCHARGES

On September 13, 1988, Michigan Consolidated Gas Company (MichCon) filed its application in Case Nos. U-5451-R (1988) and U-6743-R (1988) for a reconciliation and adjustment of its surcharges under its Interest Free Financing Program (IFF Program) and Residential Conservation Service Plan (RCS Program) for the period of July 1, 1987 through June 30, 1988.

MichCon, a Michigan corporation with principal offices located at 500 Griswold Street, Detroit, is engaged in the distribution and sale of natural gas at retail to approximately one million customers within the State of Michigan.

MichCon submitted the following consolidated written testimony and exhibits in support of its reconciliation and surcharge adjustments.

1. Under MichCon's IFF Program.

In recognition of the current termination of utility loan authority pursuant to MCLA 460.6c(6), MichCon has prepared its case for the IFF Program year from July 1, 1988 through June 30, 1989 under the assumption that there will be no amendment to MCLA 460.6c(6) and that no new utility conservation loans will be made during that period.

(a) Total IFF Program expenses exceeded program revenues by $65,889 as of the end of June 1988.

(b) Estimated program expenses and net income for 12 months ending June 1989 will total $481,000. This amount, plus the underrecovery as of June 30, 1988, results in total recoverable costs of $546,889 for the July 1, 1988 through June 30, 1989 period.

(c) Estimated surcharge revenues for the period July 1, 1988 to December 31, 1988 are $192,000.

(d) Sales of natural gas under the rate schedules to which the IFF Program surcharge applies are estimated at approximately 92.6 billion cubic feet (Bcf) for the period January 1, 1989 through June 30, 1989.

(e) An IFF surcharge of 0.0383 cents per hundred cubic feet (Ccf) for the period January through June 1989 will enable MichCon to recover total IFF Program costs for the 1988-1989 program year.

2. Under MichCon's RCS Program.

(a) Total program costs exceed program revenues by $423,307 as of the end of June, 1988.

(b) Estimated program costs for 12 months ending June, 1989 will total $2,567,000 and estimated audit fee revenues will be $30,000.

(c) Estimated revenue recorded prior to the proposed implementation of a revised surcharge in January, 1989 will total $986,000.

(d) Rate schedule sales of natural gas are estimated to total approximately 135.7 Bcf for the period January 1, 1989 through June 30, 1989.

(e) An RCS Program surcharge of 0.146 cents per Ccf, 0.143 cents per therm, commencing with the January 1989 billing cycle will enable MichCon to recover estimated costs for the program year ending June 30, 1989, inclusive of all previously underrecovered program costs.

In the Opinion and Order in Case No. U-5451 dated May 27, 1981, MichCon was authorized to engage in its IFF Program for the conservation of natural gas pursuant to 1978 PA 211 and the Commission's Residential Conservation Standards, R 460.2401 et seq. MichCon was also authorized, by this Commission in Case No. U-6743, to implement a conservation program pursuant to the RCS Program to offer certain specific energy conservation services to its residential customers. Under the RCS Program, MichCon recovers the costs associated with the RCS Program by a separate uniform surcharge included in the price of every metered unit of gas sold regardless of the amount of gas consumed by a customer. The costs associated with the IFF Program are recovered through a surcharge which was included in general utility rates but is now included only in residential utility rates. Also, under each of MichCon's above-referenced conservation programs, comprehensive reconciliation proceedings have been established to enable the Commission to adjust, as necessary, the actual costs with surcharge revenues for the preceding surcharge periods and establish new surcharges for the subsequent 12 months. In each case, the revised surcharge is netted against any overage or underage for the past surcharge period.

In subsequent orders, the Commission has approved revised surcharges. The current surcharges are 0.151 cents per Ccf or 0.148 cents per therm for the RCS Program; and 0.043 cents per Ccf for the IFF Program, approved by the Commission in its Order dated March 29, 1988.

MichCon's filing, including its testimony and exhibits, is available for inspection at the offices of the Commission Executive Secretary, 6545 Mercantile Way, Lansing, Michigan, and at each of its district offices in its gas service area.

Jurisdiction is pursuant to 1978 PA 211, MCLA 460.6c; 1909 PA 300, as amended, MCLA 462.2 et seq.; 1919 PA 419, as amended, MCLA 460.51 et seq.; 1939 PA 2, as amended, MCLA 460.1 et seq.; 1969 PA 306, as amended, MCLA 24.201 et seq.; the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure, 1979 Administrative Code, R 460.11 et seq.; the National Energy Conservation Policy Act; 42 USC 8201 et seq.; and the Michigan Residential Conservation Service Plan.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT:

A. A public hearing in these matters will be held at 9:00 a.m. on December 20, 1988 in the offices of the Commission, 6545 Mercantile Way, Lansing, Michigan. The hearing will be in the nature of a prehearing conference and will be held for the purpose of considering matters which will expedite these proceedings. (Emphasis added)

C. "THE SURCHARGE ADJUSTMENTS DESCRIBED IN THIS NOTICE HAVE BEEN REQUESTED BY MICHIGAN CONSOLIDATED GAS COMPANY. THE MICHIGAN PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION MAY EITHER GRANT OR DENY THE REQUESTED ADJUSTMENTS, IN WHOLE OR IN PART, AND MAY GRANT LESSER OR GREATER SURCHARGE ADJUSTMENTS THAN THOSE REQUESTED."

The Bible Speaks

From Calvary Baptist Church

The Gospel of John

Part 58

The Grieving Savior

In John 11:28-39 we read of the ministry of Jesus to Mary just before He raised Lazarus from the dead. Mary received a personal call to meet Jesus outside of town, probably near the grave of Lazarus. (John 11:28). She "arose quickly, and came unto him." (John 11:29). As Mary responded to the request of Jesus, we note His resoluteness as He calmly remained awaiting her arrival. (John 11:30.) In His sovereign plan, God draws the unbelieving Jews who have come to comfort Martha and Mary, to the site of the miracle. (John 11:31).

Mary immediately falls at the feet of Jesus in worship. (John 11:32). In Luke 10:39 we see her at His feet hearing His words as her prophet. In John 11:32 we see her at His feet in worship as her priest. In John 12:3 we shall see her at His feet in service anointing the feet of her king. More than her worship, and words, it is her weeping that touches the heart of Jesus. "When Jesus therefore saw her weeping, and the Jews also weeping which came with her, he groaned in the spirit, and was troubled." Jesus feels our hurt and sees our tears.

"Jesus Wept." (John 11:35). This is the shortest and a most profound verse in the Bible. We are reminded that Christ was truly human as well as divine. He was acquainted with grief as prophesied of Him in Isaiah 53:3. He was not ashamed to weep with them that weep as stated in Romans 12:15. He willingly identified with others, and is "touched with the feeling of our infirmities." (Heb. 4:15). Contrary to the Greek gods who considered all human emotion as weakness, our Lord Jesus Christ is a God of compassion. There is a time to weep. (Eccl. 3:4). Jesus wept over the sickness, death and despair brought upon mankind by sin. He wept over Jerusalem because of their impending judgment for unrepented sins. (Luke 19:41). He wept in Gethsemane with strong crying and tears because of the terrible effects of sin for which He came to die. (Heb. 5:7).

Even the unbelieving Jews were touched by His compassion. "Then said the Jews, Behold how he loved him!" (John 11:36). Others questioned both His love and His power in letting Lazarus die. (John 11:37). They all missed the greatest truth. Jesus Christ loved the world. "For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life." (John 3:16). My friend, the greatest love you can know, is to know that Jesus loves you, weeps over your sin, died on the cross and shed His blood for sins, and offers you salvation through faith in Him.

Profit and Prophet

A simple definition of the word PROFIT means to benefit or gain. A PROPHET is defined as one who predicts the future.

Although similar in sound, different in definition, these two words have a way of saying something that can affect our lives.

Profits demand wise decisions. Profits demand wise decisions, too. Both have a common relationship as to what we can lose or gain.

False profits are attractions of materialism and wealth accumulation. False prophets deny us our basic needs and are unpredictable.

Profit by attending your house of worship. It is an investment in our future — promises of wonderful things to come.

STATE OF MICHIGAN
BEFORE THE MICHIGAN
PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION

Case No. U-9267
In the matter of the application of MICHIGAN INTRASTATE PIPELINE SYSTEM, INC. for authority to construct and operate the Michigan Intrastate Pipeline in Bay, Midland, Arenac, Ogemaw, Roscommon, Crawford and Kalamazoo counties.

NOTICE OF HEARING

On November 9, 1988, Michigan Intrastate Pipeline System, Inc. (Michigan Intrastate) filed an application with the Michigan Public Service Commission (Commission) for authority to construct and operate the Michigan Intrastate Pipeline in Bay, Midland, Arenac, Ogemaw, Roscommon, Crawford and Kalamazoo counties.

Michigan Intrastate is a Michigan corporation with principal offices located at 8992 East D Avenue, Richland, Michigan. Michigan Intrastate is a wholly owned subsidiary of Intercon Gas, Inc. which is a natural gas company engaged in marketing natural gas, construction and operation of natural gas pipelines, and the transportation of natural gas intrastate and interstate.

Michigan Intrastate proposes to construct and operate a 16 inch outside diameter (O.D.) main header gathering pipeline and a 10-3/4 inch O.D. lateral pipeline having a total length of approximately 155 miles. The 16 inch O.D. wet header gathering pipeline will extend from a point in Section 31, Town 14 North, Range 8 East, Akron Township, Tuscola County, Michigan, a distance of approximately 148 miles northwesterly through Bay, Arenac, Ogemaw, Roscommon and Crawford counties to the existing gas processing plants in Section 31, Town 27 North, Range 7 West, Kalamazoo Township, Kalamazoo County, Michigan. The 10-3/4 inch O.D. lateral pipeline will extend from a tie point with the 16 inch pipeline in Section 17, Town 14 North, Range 3 East, Williams Township, Bay County, Michigan, a distance of approximately 7 miles southwesterly to the Midland Cogeneration Venture (MCV) plant in Town 14 North, Range 2 East, Midland Township, Midland County, Michigan.

Michigan Intrastate represents that the proposed pipeline will gather natural gas and hydrocarbon liquids from newly discovered and future wells tapping Pre-Glenwood reservoirs in the eastern part of the Michigan basin, and transport it to the existing gas processing facilities in Kalamazoo County or to the MCV plant in Midland County. Michigan Intrastate further represents that a gas/liquids separation facility will be constructed at the end of the 10-3/4 inch O.D. lateral in Midland County. Michigan Intrastate represents that the gas from this facility can be delivered to the MCV plant, and the liquids can either be burned directly as gas turbine fuel at the MCV plant or transported by truck and pipeline to existing processing facilities in Alma, Marysville, or Sarnia.

Michigan Intrastate represents that the proposed pipeline will transport gas and liquids owned by producers, end users, pipelines and local distribution companies. Michigan Intrastate does not contemplate purchasing the gas and liquids that would be transported in the proposed pipeline.

Michigan Intrastate represents that the proposed pipeline will benefit Michigan interests and serve the convenience and necessity of the public by providing a means of gathering and transporting gas and liquids from new and developing production areas in the state and delivering those products to the extensive pipeline systems within the state.

Michigan Intrastate represents that there are approximately 630 billion cubic feet (Bcf) of proven reserves in the East Central Basin region which could be transported by the proposed pipeline. Michigan Intrastate represents that transportation services will be provided on a first come, first serve basis at a rate estimated to be approximately 25 cents to 40 cents per thousand cubic feet (Mcft).

Michigan Intrastate represents that approximately 50 miles of the proposed pipeline will be constructed on right-of-way owned by Consumers Power Company with the remainder on privately-owned right-of-way and on public road and rail right-of-way. Michigan Intrastate further represents that the proposed pipeline and related facilities will be constructed, tested and operated in accordance with the requirements of the Michigan Gas Safety Code.

Michigan Intrastate's filing is available for inspection at the offices of the Commission

Executive Secretary, 6545 Mercantile Way, Lansing, Michigan, and at the offices of Michigan Intrastate Pipeline System, Inc., 8992 East D Avenue, Richland, Michigan.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that:

(Emphasis added)

Peanut butter is extremely nutritious as well as delicious, if you overlook the oil and salt content. The peanut is a legume, similar to the bean. Most foreign countries call them "groundnuts" and it is thought the term peanut evolved from the fact that the plant resembles a pea vine. Peanuts need a light, well-drained soil and a long growing season, so production is limited to certain parts of the country that offer ideal growing conditions. It is estimated that Americans consume more than 231,000 tons of peanut butter each year. Peanut butter combines nicely with many kinds of foods; for example, mix a little peanut butter with horseradish and use it to stuff celery. Here are some other ideas:

Indonesian Chicken

1/2 c. onions, diced
2 cloves garlic, minced
1/2 tsp. red pepper flakes
1/2 c. peanut butter
1 tsp. salt
2 tbsp. soy sauce
1 c. water

2 tbsp. lemon or lime juice

2 broiler/fryer chickens, cut in quarters

Combine the first five ingredients and saute in oil about 3 minutes. Add soy sauce, water, and juice and cook on low heat about five minutes. Cool. Marinate chicken in sauce one hour then broil, basting with marinade several times. Serves eight.

Peanut Butter Apple Muffins

2 c. flour
4 tsp. baking powder
3/4 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. cinnamon
1/4 tsp. nutmeg
1/4 c. shortening

1/4 c. peanut butter

1/4 c. sugar

1 egg

1 c. milk

3/4 c. chopped apple

Combine dry ingredients and set aside. Cream shortening and peanut butter with sugar until light and fluffy. Add egg and beat well. Stir in milk and apple. Add flour mixture and stir only enough to moisten dry ingredients. Fill greased muffin tins 2/3 full. Sprinkle top of muffins with an additional 2 tbsp. sugar mixed with 1/4 tsp. cinnamon. Bake at 400° 20-25 minutes. Makes 15-18 2" muffins.

Sour Cream Chiffon Pie

1 tbsp. (1 envelope) unflavored gelatin

2/3 c. cold water

2 eggs, separated

1/2 c. sugar

1/4 tsp. salt

2/3 c. peanut butter

1 c. dairy sour cream

1 baked 9" pie shell or crumb crust

Soften gelatin in cold water. Beat egg yolks, sugar and salt in top of double boiler, stir in gelatin and cook, beating constantly, until thick and fluffy. Remove from heat and blend in peanut butter. Beat egg whites until stiff and fold with sour cream into gelatin mixture. Pour into pie shell and chill until firm. Serve with whipped cream.

Hot Fudge-Nut Sauce

Combine 1 6-ounce package semi-sweet chocolate bits with 1 small can (2/3 c.) evaporated milk and 1/4 c. peanut butter in saucepan and heat until smooth. Serve over ice cream or angel food cake. Leftover sauce can be reheated, adding a little milk if sauce is too thick.

Doodles from the Tall Timber

By Wendell L. Hoover
Hartwick Pines Interpreter

This morning when I turned on the porch light to check the thermometer and status of the weather, there was a flying squirrel in the bird feeder. In the squirrel family only the chipmunk and its cousin, the gopher hibernator. The rest of the family are active all through the winter.

The flying squirrel is active at night while the other members of the family prefer the daylight hours. Actually the flying squirrel doesn't fly, but rather glides through the air by utilizing an extensible fold of skin along its sides. On the ground it can cover some seventy-five feet in twelve seconds, but if given a starting point sixty feet above the ground, it can glide one hundred fifty-two feet through the air.

The flying squirrel raises anywhere from two to six young which are born in late March or early April. One source claims the young are blind for four weeks after birth and only weigh an ounce but by the time they are ready to take an active part in the natural world, some one hundred twenty days after birth, they weigh two and a half ounces.

I'm not certain where our visitor has its den, but a hollow tree is preferred. While some other animals do not have clean dens, the flying squirrel does, so spare the hollow trees and keep the feeder full. You never know who will come for dinner.

Resource Review

By Bruce Patrick
Conservation Officer

Life time hunting and fishing licenses will soon be available to residents of the State of Michigan. Applications will be available at DNR offices and license agents statewide, with the application period open until February 28, 1990. There are no plans to make lifetime licenses available after that time.

The lifetime licenses become effective March 1, 1989 and are valid for the remainder of the holder's life, whether or not the holder moves out of Michigan. In other words, residency at the time of purchase is required, but the license would still be valid if the holder moved to, say, Florida at some point in the future.

A lifetime license may be purchased by any Michigan resident, regardless of age. However, the license will not be issued until the applicant is of legal age to use the license. For example, if a small game license is purchased for a 10 year old, the license would not be sent until the applicant becomes 12 and successfully completes a Hunter Safety Course.

Upon acceptance of an application, the DNR will issue a certificate showing the holder has a lifetime license. Then, each year prior to March 1, the holder will be sent a passbook with the appropriate stamps. If the passbook and stamps are lost, they will be replaced in accordance with the procedure in effect at the time. A replacement fee may be involved.

A lifetime license will allow the holder the same privilege, responsibilities and duties as would the equivalent annual license. Special permits and stamps (i.e. hunter's choice, bear, waterfowl, etc.) will not be included and must be obtained separately. All license privileges can be revoked in the event of law violations.

The fees for the lifetime licenses are as follows: Sportsman - $1,000 (includes the following); fire-arm deer - $285; archery deer - $285; small game -

$220; fishing - $220; fishing with trout/salmon stamp - $440. At the present cost of a Sportsman license, a lifetime license holder would be able to hunt and fish free after 22 years. That seems like a long time, but I speak to many people who have hunted or fished for 40 or 40 years.

Christmas Joy

You can take a perfect Christmas tree
Cover it with decorations that would win a prize
But you will never see its greatest beauty
Till you see it reflected in a child's eyes.

Those eyes so full of joy and wonder
As Christmas Eve draws near Each little heart hoping
To see Santa and his reindeer

They just know Santa will bring them
A lot of goodies and toys
For almost a week now
They've been such good girls and boys.

Without children to share your Christmas
It loses so much of its joy
Bring a lot of joy back in your Christmas
By donating a doll or toy.

There's people working hard to bring
Christmas joy to everyone
Knowing you helped make a child happy
Will make your Christmas much more fun.

So be as generous as you can
To help keep those children's dreams alive
Perhaps you'll see a Christmas tree reflected
In some child's happy eyes.

Poet's Corner

"The Missing Angel"

The preacher stood proudly telling the story of Sarah who had visited the old folks Three yrs. she had given of her time two and three times a week
You could see her Love and Compassion for each soul who longed for some familiar face of a loved one or friend but only the face of Sarah appeared
The preacher told everyone
The old folks call her "Angel".

Then one day she was called aside
by two staff members
They told her she could no longer visit her old friends not even to say good-bye or explain.

Because of free help shortage they insisted she should join the volunteer club before letting her return.
Hardly a day passed, the old folks ask
Where is our missing "Angel"?

NEW BUSINESS

Suttles Trucking Anticipates Bright Future in Grayling

NEW BUSINESS — William Bush manages the Grayling terminal for Suttles Trucking.

Suttles Trucking, Inc. of Denopolis, Alabama, opened its third fulltime terminal in Grayling on October 1st. The company employs nine persons, and is currently operating five freightliners hauling resin for the Georgia Pacific Resin Plant on Four Mile Road. Trucks from Grayling travel as far west as Bemidji, Minn. and south to Columbus, Ohio.

William R. Bush is the manager of the Grayling terminal. His wife, Heather, doubles as his secretary.

Bill and Heather and their two sons, Ivan, 13, and Cody, 16, moved to Grayling in October from Columbus, Ohio. Bill is originally from Lansing and is a graduate of the Lansing Business University.

"We have brought to Grayling nearly one million dollars worth of 1989 rolling stock (tractors and trailers) and support equipment to better serve our northern Michigan customers," stated Bush.

Suttles Trucking, Inc. is a nationwide trucking company with its home office in Denopolis and terminals in Mobile, Alabama, Grayling, and will soon be opening their fourth office in Baton Rouge, Louisiana. The company employs approximately 300 persons, and operates a fleet of 130 specialized trucks. Suttles is licensed to transport hazardous waste throughout the United States.

The company is owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs.

James Suttles, who have over 30 years of trucking service experience.

Buth explained that sales representatives for Suttles are in the process of negotiating a contract with a Midland based chemical company, and if this contract is finalized, the Grayling office would nearly triple in size overnight.

"The future of our company here in Grayling is bright," Bush said. "We anticipate a great deal of growth over the next few years. Suttles Trucking is pleased to be a part of this vibrant growing city."

Suttles Trucking, Inc. is located at 2074 Industrial Drive in the Industrial Park.

FREDERIC STUDENT ATTENDS SEABORG ACADEMY — Follow-up activities are being held this fall for David Bentley of Frederic as well as others who attended the second annual Seaborg Science Academy at Northern Michigan University. The fall programs are preparing students for the Michigan Mathematics Prize Competition exam. Shown with him as they solve a math problem is Dr. John Kiltinen, lead instructor of the academy and professor of mathematics at NMU. Students selected for the two-week session focused on problem-solving techniques in science and mathematics and were chosen from nearly 100 applicants from throughout Michigan and several states.
